This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

STATE OF NEW YORK.

No. 3.

IN ASSEMBLY,

January 2, 1872.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE COMPTROLLER.

STATE OF NEW YORK:
COMPTROLLER'S OFFICE,
ALBANY, Jan. 2, 1872.

To the Speaker of the Assembly:

SIR.—I have the honor herewith to transmit the Annual Report of my predecessor, the Hon. ASHER P. NICHOLS, exhibiting the condition of the finances of this State at the close of the last fiscal year, and am,

Your obedient servant,

NELSON K. HOPKINS.

Comptroller.

REPORT.

STATE OF NEW YORK:

COMPTROLLER'S OFFICE,
ALBANY, December 30, 1871.

To the Legislature:

The law makes it the duty of the Comptroller to exhibit to the Legislature, at its annual meeting, a complete statement of the funds of the State, of its revenues, and of the public expenditures during the preceding year, with a detailed estimate of the expenditures, to be defrayed from the treasury for the ensuing year, specifying therein each object of expenditure, and distinguishing between such as are provided for by permanent or temporary appropriations, and such as are required to be provided for by law, and showing the means from which such expenditures are to be defrayed, and to suggest plans for the improvement and management of the public revenues; and in obedience thereto he respectfully submits the following

REPORT:

The general order of arrangement of previous reports will be observed as far as practicable.

DEBT.

On the 30th September, 1870, the total funded debt was $38,641,606.40, classified as follows:

General Fund	$4,040,026 40
Contingent	68,000 00
Canal	11,966,580 00
Bounty	22,567,000 00
	$38,641,606 40

On the 30th September, 1871, the total funded debt was $38,121,606.40, classified as follows:

General Fund	$4,040,026 40
Contingent	68,000 00
Canal	11,966,580 00
Bounty	22,047,000 00
	$38,121,606 40

The following statement shows the amount of the State debt on the 30th September, 1871, after deducting the unapplied balances of the Sinking Funds at that date:

	Debt on the 30th Sept., 1871.	Balances of Sinking Funds on the 30th September, 1871.	Balance of debt after applying Sinking Funds.
General Fund	$4,040,026 40	*$1,805,744 29	$2,234,282 11
Contingent	68,000 00	19,139 89	48,860 11
Canal	11,966,580 00	1,654,226 27	10,312,353 73
Bounty	22,047,000 00	†5,159,793 43	16,887,206 57
	$38,121,606 40	$8,638,903 88	$29,482,702 52

The State debt on the 30th September, 1870, after deducting the unapplied balances of the Sinking Funds, amounted to	$32,409,144 26
On the 30th September, 1871, to	29,482,702 52
Showing a reduction of	$2,926,441 74

GENERAL FUND DEBT.

The following statement gives the items of the General Fund Debt on the 30th September, 1871, and they are presented more in detail in the tables of the appendix accompanying this report:

Astor stock, chapter 302, Laws of 1827, and chapter 86, Laws of 1832	$561,500 00
Deficiency loans under chapter 216, Laws of 1848	3,237,887 77
Comptroller's bonds	66,443 76
Indian annuities	122,694 87
Not paying interest	51,500 00
	$4,040,026 40

The principal of the debt is payable as follows:

On demand	$30,443 76
1875	900,000 00
1878	800,000 00
At pleasure	2,258,082 64
Paying interest	$3,988,526 40
Not paying interest	51,500 00
	$4,040,026 40

* Includes $981,588.68 received since the close of the fiscal year.

† Deducting interest accrued to October 1st, 1871, payable January 1st, 1872.

GENERAL FUND DEBT SINKING FUND.

The following statement gives the receipts and payments or of the General Fund Debt Sinking Fund, for the fiscal year ending September 30th, 1871:

Receipts, viz.:
Balance in the treasury October 1st, 1870	$439,001 13
Received from surplus canal revenues	569,974 61
Transferred from the General Fund, for interest or money in the treasury, during the year	43,552 78
		$1,052,528 52
Payments, viz.:
Interest on General Fund Debt	$211,440 46
Premium on coin to pay interest on debt	9,129 10
Indian annuities	7,361 66
Premium on coin to pay annuities	441 69
		228,372 91
Balance in the treasury September 30th, 1871		$824,155 61

The contribution to the General Fund Debt Sinking Fund, for the fiscal year ending September 30th, 1871, under section 2, article 7, of the Constitution, amounting to $981,588.68, and since paid in, makes the actual balance as of that day, $1,805,744.29. This contribution, it will be seen, was $411,614.07 more than in the previous year, but still $518,411.32 less than the contribution contemplated by section 2, article 7. Another year, it is believed the contribution will come up to the full constitutional measure.

CANAL DEBT AND CANAL REVENUES.

The aggregate of the Canal Debt on the 30th day of September, 1870, was $11,966,580, with an aggregate unapplied balance of Sinking Funds of $2,149,884.61, leaving the real balance unprovided for of $9,816,695.39.

On the 30th day of September, 1871, the account stood as follows:

Aggregate debt	$11,966,580 00
Aggregate of Sinking Funds	1,654,226 27
Real balance unprovided for	$10,312,353 73

The following statement of the Canal Debt, September 30, 1871, classifies it in reference to the Constitutional provisions for its payment, and shows the amount redeemable each year and the rate of interest:

CANAL DEBT.

(Under article 7, section 1, of the Constitution.)

Stock not bearing interest		$160 00
Redeemable as follows, viz.:
Six per cent 1st July, 1837	$160 00
Stock bearing five per cent interest		1,106,420,00
Redeemable as follows, viz.:
5 per cent 1st of January, 1874	1,106,420 00
Total Canal Debt under article 7, section 1, of the Constitution		$1,106,580 00
Of which there pays no interest		160 00
Canal debt, under section 1, paying interest		$1,106,420 00

(Under article 7, section 3, of the Constitution.)

Stock bearing six per cent interest		$7,497,500,00
Redeemable as follows, viz.:
6 per cent 1st July, 1872	$1,562,900 00
6 " 1st January, 1873	847,500 00
6 " 1st July, 1873	1,013,500 00
6 " 1st November, 1873	1,974,600 00
6 " 1st October, 1874	2,099,000 00
	$7,497,500 00

For payment of Canal Revenue Certificates.

Stock bearing six per cent interest		1,314,500 00
Redeemable as follows, viz.:
6 per cent 1st of July, 1873	$1,314,500 00
Stock bearing six per cent interest		473,000 00
Redeemable as follows, viz.:
6 per cent 1st October, 1875	473,000 00
Total Canal Debt under section 3, paying interest		$9,285,000 00

(Under article 7, section 12, of the Constitution.)

For the payment of the floating debt:

Stock bearing 6 per cent interest		$1,575,000 00
Redeemable as follows, viz.:
6 per cent 1st July, 1872	$695,000 00
6 " 1st December, 1877	880,000 00
Total Canal Debt under section 12, paying interest		$1,575,000 00

RECAPITULATION OF THE FOREGOING STATEMENT OF THE CANAL DEBT PAYING INTEREST ON THE 30TH OF SEPTEMBER, 1871.

Under article 7, section 1, of the Constitution	$1,106,420 00
Under article 7, section 3, of the Constitution	9,285,000 00
Under article 7, section 12, of the Constitution	1,575,000 00
	$11,966,420 00

Amounts in Sinking Funds, September 30th, 1871:

Under section 1, article 7	$1,133,591 56
Under section 12, article 7	877,401 36
	$2,010,992 92
Less over draft on Sinking Fund under article 7, section 3, to pay interest	356,766 65
	$1,654,226 27

The tolls collected for the year ending September 30th, 1870, were	$3,080,893 57
For the year ending September 30th, 1871, they were	2,813,686 29
A falling off of	$267,207 28

The receipts from all sources for the year ending September 30th, 1870, were	$3,107,138 90
For the year ending September 30th, 1871, they were	2,842,549 94
A falling off of	$264,588 96

The expenses for the year ending September 30th, 1870, were	$2,537,164 29
For the year ending September 30th, 1871, they were	1,860,961 26
A falling off of	$676,203 03

The net revenues for the year ending September 30th, 1870, were	$569,974 61
For the year ending September 30th, 1871, they were	981,588 68
An increase of	$411,614 07

This result stands in gratifying contrast with that of the fiscal year ending September 30, 1870. Then the net revenues were $569,-974.61; now they are $981,588.68, showing an increase of $411,614.07.

But turning from a comparison of the fiscal year ending September 30, 1871, with the previous fiscal year, to one of the season of navigation of 1871 with that of 1870, the result is still more favorable to 1871. This shows an increase of tolls in the present season of navigation (and practically some fifteen days shorter) over that of 1870 of $487,227.78. A comparison of expenditures for the same years cannot accurately be made at this time, but it is entirely within the limits of safety to say that they were as much smaller in the calendar year of 1871 as compared with that 1870, as the foregoing table shows them to have been in the corresponding fiscal year.

The receipts of 1871 were larger than the annual average of the thirty-four years since 1837; and the annual average for the seven years next preceding the war was only $2,459,540, or less by the large sum of $639,760.78, than the sum collected in the second season of the new era of low tolls and an improved condition of the canal. Further progressive benefits may reasonably be expected.

The financial policy of the State as to its canals is based on the principle which should dictate all national and minor measures for raising the revenue necessary to the maintenance of a government by the people for the benefit of the people. The means by which they gain their subsistence should not be impaired, and the least practicable portion of their surplus earnings should be taken from them. Such charges only should be levied on the trade passing through the canals as will suffice to keep them in repair, make judicious improvements and fulfill the constitutional obligations.

High tolls on transit through our canals are one of the most impolitic and injurious forms of taxation. They are a direct check upon the employment of the large class of men engaged in the most important industry of this State, and are ultimately levied upon the iron, coal, lumber, grain and other articles, either used as the raw material or source of motive power in manufactures.

It would be manifestly absurd to levy the same amount of tolls to-day as when the price of carrying a ton from Albany to Buffalo was as great as it now is for carrying the same weight from New York to the interior of Kansas. Competition has continually increased since the time when, with the exception of wagon roads, the Erie canal was the only route within the limits of the United States from the regions west of the Alleghany mountains, and those on the great lakes to the Atlantic. The State has recognized this fact by frequent diminutions of tolls, which were $1,530 on a hundred tons in 1830, but $316 in 1864–9. Closer rivalry compelled the yet further reduction to $210. Even this rate cannot be regarded as final. Further reductions will become necessary, and must be made, with the wisdom and foresight of statesmen, in advance of the occasion, and not after the opportunity of securing our object has either wholly or in part escaped.

Speedy restoration of the canal trade has followed the renewed progress of a wise and liberal policy. Not only are the measures recently adopted justified by the results, but, especially in connection with the rapidly increasing competition, it is demonstrated in what direction future steps must be taken. Both northward and southward of our State new and vigorous efforts are continually made to secure the great prize of western trade. The Pennsylvania Central rapidly enlarges its connections both in the east and west; and the Chesapeake and Ohio will soon enter the field as a new and powerful rival. Already large quantities of western grain from the new railroad terminus at Duluth have passed beyond our lake ports and been carried eastward through Vermont. With similar objects other railroads are being made in Canada. These roads will have the advantage of a valuable saving in distance; and they are made and worked with labor, iron and machinery at prices very much lower than our own. Another significant item in the competition is the remarkable series of low grades on this route, not only to our State, but to the lower ports on the St. Lawrence, and to the ocean itself. The western enthusiasm for a direct communication by ship, with the ocean, was never stronger or more urgent. A recent importation of dry goods from Liverpool to Chicago, by steam, in twenty-two days, is an indication of what may be done as to other freight. It is argued, that by increasing the depth and width of the Canadian canals, the time required for each trip will be shortened, larger steamers will be profitably employed, and unprecedented reduction of the price for freight via the St. Lawrence will follow.

The reduction of tolls on our great water thoroughfares had been too long delayed. The receipts of grain at the city of New York, no longer ago than 1860, were seventy-nine per cent of those at the ports on the great lakes. In 1869, they had gradually decreased to fifty-five per cent, although those of the same lake ports had advanced from seventy to no less than a hundred and eighteen millions of bushels.

The decrease in the transit of cereals on the canals was yet more striking. Vegetable food is the most important item in the business of these great thoroughfares, and one-half of their revenue is derived from it. Freightage in the products of the forest continued to increase, as did also that in stone, coal and gypsum; but the most valuable part of the business was slipping away from the State. Although the receipts of grain at the western ports had so largely increased, the amount of vegetable food sent over the canals decreased from 2,122,237 tons in 1861, to only 1,302,613 in 1869, the last year of high tolls. In this class of articles the high toll system was no less conspicuously a failure in revenue than in tonnage. Under its operation the revenue decreased in eight years to less than one-half of its amount at the beginning of that time, having been $3,637,118 in 1862, and only $1,755,554 in 1869; and the aggregate of tolls from all sources decreased from $5,188,943 to $3,778,501.

It is now conceded, by all parties, that low tolls on the cereals had become essential to our retention of the trade. There never has been a time, hitherto, when the production of grain at the north-west seemed so sure to increase as it now is. The unprecedented extension of railways has already opened numerous avenues through which the productions of additional areas are rendered valuable by cheap and rapid access to the markets on the great lakes. Enormous tracts of land, until lately supposed to be nearly worthless, in our own country and in those parts of the British possessions whose inhabitants will seek markets by way of the great lakes, are now known to be capable of yielding, with easy cultivation, vast crops of the best grain for the sustenance of the human race. Practically, their productiveness, for many years to come, is limited only by the cost of carrying the crops to market. The buyer and consumer are no less interested than the seller and producer. In every aspect, the problem of making the prices, at the place of consumption, as little as possible more than the prices at the place of production, is one of the most essential questions as to the progress of civilization itself.

The commerce of the State is, unquestionably, of primary importance, alike to our public finances and the personal interests of our people. The profits arising from it, gave the city and State of New York their present pre-eminence. Where the western growers send their productions to market, there they will also buy. The necessity of retaining this trade is obvious. It can only be done by offering advantages superior to those of any other route. The competition of other routes, among themselves, continually becomes closer, and it is impossible to foresee how far their charges for freight may be lowered. The changes must be met by such reductions on the canals, as will not only bring rates on them to a level with others, but, by greater cheapness, make up for the delay incident to the less expeditious means of transit. We cannot afford to rely merely on an imperfect development of the advantages given us by nature, and remain stationary in the great contest. Not to go forward is to retrograde.

The great grain fields of our country are continually moving further west. New York annually becomes more and more dependent upon the supplies of food from other States. Already, it is computed, on the best authority, that not less than fifty millions of bushels of grain are imported annually into and consumed in our own State. Abroad, we find that by the construction of railroads the growers of wheat in Russia and other countries are enabled to bring immense quantities of it into the markets of the world from regions hitherto accessible only at heavy and prohibitory cost. Our former position as sellers can only be regained by such reductions in the cost of transportation as will enable us once more to undersell our rivals. The future of the grain trade is one of the most momentous subjects for patriotic reflection, not only as concerns our own State, but also the prosperity and wealth of the nation.

The policy now adopted as to tolls was for many years treated by many in the narrow spirit of temporary and partisan controversy, but there are reasons for believing that it will hereafter rest on its intrinsic merits, and that our statesmen and people, however widely they may differ on other questions, will henceforth unite in impartial consideration as to the best measures for giving permanence to the liberal system already amply justified by its results.

A large proportion of the trade taken from the canals has been restored to them. In 1869, it was apprehended that the transit of wheat would be entirely diverted. But, up to the end of November in 1871, as nearly as can be ascertained from commercial statistics, the receipts of grain at the upper lake ports, whence the supplies passing through this State are drawn, were almost exactly the same as in the previous year, but the quantity brought by the canals to tide-water, up to the same date, had increased nineteen per cent, or over four millions of bushels, being two and a half millions more than the largest amount of the same grain thus brought in any single year, since 1863, during the whole period of navigation. Tried by the same rule, the receipts of corn have scarcely ever been equaled, and were over fifteen millions of bushels more than at the corresponding date in 1870, having been less than five millions of bushels in that year, and more than twenty in 1871. The facts as to the other grains are not yet so fully known, but it is believed that there has been an increase in them also. Taken altogether, it appears that while the receipts of grain at the upper lake ports were, in 1871, about thirty per cent more than in 1870, the arrivals by way of the canals at tide-water increased at more than double that rate, or about sixty-seven per cent. This gratifying change presents a strong contrast to the state of affairs during the era of high tolls, when the tonnage of vegetable food on the canals fell from 2,122,237 in 1861, to only 1,302,613 in 1869.

An examination of the following tables will show the gratifying increase of the shipments of grain at Buffalo and Oswego in 1871, as compared with those of 1870:

BUFFALO.

Bushels.	1870.	1871.
Wheat	16,738,613	19,028,316
Rye	378,322	986,511
Corn	5,911,668	20,695,305
Barley	831,024	825,420
Oats	5,572,204	6,649,439
Total	29,431,831	48,184,991

OSWEGO.

Wheat	3,857,727	3,796,568
Rye	264,346	223,235
Corn	361,411	2,424,029
Barley	3,246,104	3,010,712
Oats	247,053	113,957
Total	7,976,641	9,568,501

The aggregate shipments of grain in 1871, at Buffalo, exceeded those of the previous year by no less than 18,753,160 bushels, while those at Oswego also increased 1,591,860 bushels.

The freight brought by the canals from the west was last year limited by the number of boats, which was proportioned to the unprofitable business of previous years, and insufficient for the requirements of renewed prosperity. A continuation of the present policy as to low tolls and maintenance of the canal in a good and improving condition will not only increase the number of boats, but re-establish through lines for transportation from the upper lake ports to New York, with their numerous agencies for soliciting freight.

Many local accounts are not transmitted to the office of the Auditor in time to furnish, for this report, an exact statement of the tonnage of all kinds on the canals during the season lately closed; but, great as has been the increase of tolls and of trade in the cereals, the canal trade in coal has been injuriously affected, both by long-continued strikes in the coal mines and the operations of companies being the owners both of mines in Pennsylvania and also of the railroads leading thence to the central and western parts of this State.

While financial considerations furnish ample motives for reducing tolls to the lowest amount absolutely necessary to provide for the annual expenses, constitutional requirements and judicious improvements of the canals, no less indisputable reasons for initiating and permanently maintaining this important reform, are found in its evident tendency to promote honest government. Corruption naturally arises from large revenues and lavish expenditures, but perishes in the atmosphere of wise economy and a due regard to the interests of the people in commercial as well as in political affairs.

Yet the reduction of tolls is only a part of the vital problem to be solved. In this era of marvelous mechanical inventions, the future is uncertain and the seats of commerce are sometimes changed. We have to contend not only against rival routes with their present facilities, but the combined speed and economy of railroads with double tracks devoted exclusively to freight have yet to be tested. Constant and vigorous attention both on the part of the State itself, and of the intelligent men who are especially interested in the result, is imperatively demanded to secure cheaper and more rapid methods of carrying property over our canals. The appropriation for this purpose at the last session of the Legislature, was a step in the right direction; and a rich field for enterprise and success is open to individual inventors as well as to those who hope to secure merited wealth and distinction by giving practical effect to new discoveries for the benefit of the people, through the best application of steam to towage between the Hudson and the great lakes.

The policy of maintaining and repairing the canals by contract, has been proved by the experience of ten years, to be both wasteful and corrupt. No more decisive condemnation of the system is needed, than the data officially furnished by its own advocates. They show that during its unmixed rule, the average annual cost to the people nearly doubled; having increased for the last six years of the term from $746,976 to $1,345,712, while the stipulated work, for which these profligate expenditures were made, was not done, but the chief canal was permitted to fall into so bad a condition, that the ordinary length of time necessary for a trip from Albany to Buffalo, was lengthened eighteen per cent, or from eight and one-half to ten days, during the whole six years of unprecedented cost. The life of the great carrying trade of the west languished and was departing, and much had to be done to restore it.

The inference from these facts is unavoidable, their memorable lesson is conclusive, and will, it is to be hoped, never be forgotten.

The official reports of the State Engineer also concur in demonstrating that the canals were in worse order for each of the whole term of years, when the $1,300,000 of the people's money were paid.

than when the comparatively small sum of $700,000 only was taken from the treasury for the same purpose.

The neglected condition of the canals, at the beginning of 1870, made heavy expenditures necessary for the promotion and preservation of business. Some of the quickest trips ever yet known have been made in the season lately closed, and the boatmen and all whose daily pursuits are connected with the inland commerce of the State, concur in bearing strong, cheerful, and decisive testimony to the vigilant and prompt attendance of the employes along the line of the canals and the great and favorable change in the security and speed of navigation.

The decrease of $676,203 in the expenditures on the canals during the fiscal year of 1870, '71, indicates that the large expenses of the previous year are no longer necessary, and further reductions may confidently be expected in the next fiscal year.

CANAL DEBT.

Of the principal of the Canal Debt, under section 3, article 7, of the Constitution, the sum of $1,562,900 is redeemable July 1, 1872, and $847,500 January 1, 1873. The Sinking Fund being insufficient to meet these demands, other provision must be made.

This must be done, if practicable, under section 3, by procuring the necessary means to satisfy any deficiency "on the credit of the said Sinking Fund," or, such primary resource failing, by taxation, under section 5.

It is believed that the credit of the Sinking Fund will be found a security abundantly ample for borrowing the sums required from time to time, and that a resort to taxation cannot be necessary.

BOUNTY DEBT.

On the 30th of September, 1871, the outstanding stocks and bonds representing this indebtedness, amounted to $22,047.000, classified as follows:

Registered stock	$20,675,000 00
Coupon bonds	1,372,000 00
	$22,047,000 00

BOUNTY DEBT AND SINKING FUND.

The following table gives the receipts and payments on account of this fund for the fiscal year ending September 30th, 1871:

Receipts, viz.:

Balance in the treasury October 1st, 1870		$2,704,287 99
Proceeds of 2⅛ mills tax levied in 1870, in pursuance of chapter 325, Laws of 1865		4,096,279 97
Interest on investments		38,193 82
Transferred from the general fund for interest on money in the treasury during the year		103,102 68
		$6,941,864 46

Payments, viz:

Interest on debt	$1,577,224 02
Purchase of stocks and bonds for investment	657,000 00
Interest on bonds purchased	2,104 47
Premium and commissions on stock purchased	43,164 13
		2,279,492 62
Balance in the treasury September 30th, 1871		$4,662,371 84

To the above cash balance of $4,662,371.84 should be added, as constituting a part of the capital of the fund, the sum of $883,244.09, making a total of $5,545,615.93 for items of which see table VIII.

This debt becomes due in April, 1877, and to keep up the Sinking Fund to a point adequate to its extinguishment at maturity, requires an annual contribution of $3,953,911.66.

A tax of two (2) mills for the current year will raise sufficient for that purpose and leave a small surplus. This annual contribution necessary to fill the Sinking Fund at a given time, is computed on a basis which makes no allowance for loss of interest by reason of inability to invest without delay, or to invest in the prescribed securities except at a premium which reduces interest in the same ratio. But, with the greatest care, these losses, to a certain extent, are inevitable and must be taken into the account. The annual contribution, therefore, should always be above the mathematical point to an amount sufficient to cover such losses. Two (2) mills for the current year, it is believed, will be sufficient for this purpose. Of the cash balance in the treasury to the credit of this Sinking Fund, $992,426.52 have been invested since the close of the last fiscal year.

THE CONTINGENT DEBT.

The only contingent debt of the State is that incurred for the Long Island Railroad Company, the interest of which is paid, and the principal of which will be provided for by that company. No change has been made in this debt during the fiscal year.

The amount September 30th, 1871, was $68,000. The Sinking Fund for its payment on the same day amounted to $19,139.89.

LOCAL VALUATIONS AND INDEBTEDNESS.

The Comptroller desires again to call the attention of the Legislature to the importance of extending the operation and increasing the efficiency of chap. 117, Laws of 1836. By this law it is made the duty of the clerk of the board of supervisors of the several counties, to transmit the Comptroller, on or before the second Monday of December, annually, in a form to be prescribed by him, a return of the aggregate valued amount of real and personal estate, in each town or ward, as corrected by the board of supervisors, under a penalty of fifty dollars for neglect or refusal.

The information to be derived under the law, as it now stands, is of the first importance; but to render it complete it should be supplemented by a statement of the county, town, city and village indebtedness. There is much irregularity and delay in furnishing the facts required by the present statute. The Comptroller recommends its amendment, by including in the information to be published, a statement of the county, town, city and village indebtedness, and by providing, by proper penalties, for a prompt performance of the duties imposed by it.

REVENUES.

The following condensed statement gives the expenditures and revenues for the last fiscal year, showing an apparent deficiency of $8,878,806.62:

Deficiency of the General Fund Revenue on the 30th September, 1870,		$5,370,481 29
Amount of warrants drawn on the treasury on account of the General Fund, during the year ending 30th September, 1871. (See Schedule II.)		10,505,799 28
Amount transferred to the Bounty Debt Sinking Fund, being the proceeds of the 2⅛ mill tax levied in 1870, in pursuance of chapter 325, Laws of 1865		4,096,279 97
Amount transferred to the following funds for interest on money in the treasury during the year, belonging to said funds, viz.:
School Fund	$69,862 34
Literature Fund	105 08
United States Deposit Fund	1,303 86
Long Island Railroad Company Sinking Fund	259 73
Bounty Debt Sinking Fund	103,102 68
General Fund Debt Sinking Fund	43,552 78
		218,186 47
		$20,190,747 01
Amount of warrants drawn on the treasury remaining unpaid on the 30th September, 1870		746 86
Carried forward		$20,191,493 87

Brought forward		$20,191,493 87
Amount of receipts into the treasury during the year ending 30th September, 1871. (See Schedule I.)	$11,286,828 34
Amount transferred from the School Fund, for bonds for lands	24,791 25
	$11,311,619 59
Amount of warrants drawn on the treasury remaining unpaid on the 30th September, 1871	1,067 66
		11,312,687 25
Deficiency of the revenue on the 30th September, 1871		$8,878,806 62

This deficiency is very largely nominal, not real. Taxes levied for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1871, and unpaid on that day, together with advances on appropriations based upon taxes for the current year, amounting in the aggregate to $6,550,881.89, should be deducted from above deficiency, $8,878,806.62, which would leave an actual deficiency of $2,327,924.73 being $213,178.56 in excess of the estimated deficiency. This increase is accounted for by appropriations not included in the estimates of this department.

The following table gives the items of unpaid taxes, etc., referred to:

Unpaid balances due from county treasurers September 30, 1871	$6,107,995 38
Paid prior to September 30, 1871, in anticipation of State tax, viz.:
Hudson River State Hospital for the Insane	168,000 00
Willard Asylum for the Insane	86,776 25
Quarantine	138,110 26
New Capitol	50,000 00
	$6,550,881 89
Add estimated deficiency to September 30, 1871, as per last report	2,114,746 17
	$8,665,628 06

To anticipate a portion of such unpaid taxes, the Comptroller, in June last, under chapter 8, part 1 of the Revised Statutes, made a temporary loan of $300,000, payable, $100,000 April 15th, 1872, $100,000 May 15th, 1872, and $100,000 June 15th, 1872. The payment of such loan appears in the liabilities of the current year, and the proceeds thereof find place among the receipts of the last fiscal year.

The Comptroller desires again to call the attention of the Legislature to the importance of amending section 5, chapter 393, Laws of 1863, so that it will be his duty to charge interest, at a given rate, on all unpaid balances due from county treasurers, after the time fixed by law for the payment by them of the State tax into the treasury.

In this connection, he recommends that the annual State tax from the city and county of New York be made payable within the fiscal year for which it is imposed by the Legislature. The fiscal year ends on the 30th of September, but the sum received from this county is not payable till the 1st of December. It constitutes nearly fifty per cent of the entire State tax, and must of necessity enter very largely into the transactions of the given fiscal year, yet it is not payable till two months after its expiration.

By chapter 854, Laws of 1868 (page 2028), it is provided that "the compensation of the county treasurer of said county (of New York) shall hereafter be one-half of one per cent on all moneys received, and one-half of one per cent of all moneys paid out by him, in that capacity, but not exceeding ten thousand dollars per annum, from the county treasury." While the county treasurer of New York should have a proper compensation for receiving and paying over the State tax, it is submitted that the foregoing rate is altogether disproportionate to the service rendered and should be greatly reduced. By chapter 110, Laws of 1871, the rate of compensation for receiving and paying over the State tax, in all counties except New York, Kings, Albany, Otsego, Onondaga, Erie and Westchester, is fixed at one per cent, "but in no case to exceed five hundred dollars." In the excepted counties there are special rates. The State tax, by so much as it is reduced by the allowance of fees, fails to cover the appropriations based upon it, and a deficiency is the result, to be subsequently made up. The Comptroller recommends that a uniform rate of compensation for all the counties, graduated according to amount of State tax, and not exceeding in any case a given maximum, be established by the Legislature.

PUBLIC EXPENDITURES.

The following statement will enable the Legislature to compare the expenditures, in certain departments, for the years 1870 and 1871:

	1870.	1871.
Clerks in public offices	$75,157 63	$77,714 59
Expenses of public offices	13,698 38	11,784 46
Legislature, pay of members and officers	142,186 10	167,779 00
Legislature, contingent expenses	163,087 18	254,677 01
Printing for the State	369,660 31	238,399 01
Hall for the Cabinet of Natural History	17,734 79	20,972 85
Militia and National Guard	263,530 02	267,924 54
Governor, incidental expenses of government	2,766 90	2,853 61
Promotion of agriculture	20,529 15	19,255 87
Rivers, roads and bridges	10,390 95	50,654 89
State prisons, including transportation of convicts,	951,641 58	906,461 93
New York Institution for Deaf and Dumb	93,750 00	100,202 73
New York Institution for Blind, New York	34,077 32	32,760 98
Orphan asylums, etc.	535,657 69	779,784 57
Quarantine	290,644 35	344,329 28
Insurance Department	75,869 69	80,965 78

EXPENDITURES FOR EDUCATIONAL AND CHARITABLE PURPOSES.

The expenditures from the public treasury during the last fiscal year for these purposes were $3,007,563.11, of which $2,458,751.48 were the proceeds of a direct tax of 1¼ mills for common schools.

The purposes and amounts of the several State appropriations and payments are as follows:

Academies, for dividends	$43,144 58
Academies, for instruction of common school teachers	14,289 64
Charity week-day schools	75,742 50
Common school dividends	244,600 00
Cornell University	32,000 00
Indian schools	4,395 72
Normal schools	20,206 08
School commissioners' salaries	90,427 19
Teachers' institutes	20,563 22
School tax, 1¼ mill	2,458,751 48
Elmira Female College	3,442 70
	$3,007,563 11

The expenditures for the same period by the State for the support of asylums and hospitals for the deaf, blind, insane and idiotic, was $314,631.20.

The following is the schedule of the institutions in aid, or for the support of which payments have been made from the treasury, with the amounts paid for each:

Deaf and dumb	$125,202 73
Blind	64,760 98
Insane	94,667 49
Idiotic	30,000 00
	$314,631 20

These amounts do not include the large sums appropriated during the year for building purposes to the institutions which have been in progress during the year. That class of expenditures will appear in another part of this report.

Schedule XXV, annexed to this report, is compiled from the reports of the several charitable institutions sharing in the State appropriations, and, it is believed, exhibits fairly the financial condition of, and the work accomplished by them respectively.

STATE ASYLUMS FOR THE INSANE IN PROCESS OF CONSTRUCTION.

The Hudson River State Hospital for the Insane, at Poughkeepsie, contemplates a total capacity for 400 patients. Since the last annual report, it has been partially completed, and on the 18th day of October last was opened for the reception of patients. The number admitted and now actually enjoying its benefits is eleven. The capacity of the completed structures, exclusive of the rooms for administrative and domestic purposes, for medical and other offices, and for officers and employes, is equal to providing and caring for 120 inmates. The managers have decided to restrict the admission of patients to recent or acute cases of insanity, and to receive both sexes.

The Willard Asylum for the Insane, at Ovid, it is understood, has added materially, during the last year, to its capacity for properly providing and caring for that portion of the insane more particularly intended to be received and treated there, and is now, in large measure, making practically available the bounty of the State.

The plans of The Buffalo State Asylum for the Insane have been adopted, and the managers, during the last year, have been engaged in preparing the grounds and in the erection of the structures.

The following table exhibits the expenditures for each of these asylums, for purposes other than maintenance, up to the close of the fiscal year, with the years in which the expenditures were made:

	Hudson River State Hospital for the Insane, Po-'keepsie.	Willard Asylum for the Insane, Ovid.	Buffalo State Asylum for the Insane.
To September 30th, 1865.....	.....	$639 89	.....
" 30th, 1866.....	.....	64,622 42	.....
" 30th, 1867.....	$35,902 00	118,643 53	.....
" 30th, 1868.....	124,300 49	66,873 41	.....
" 30th, 1869.....	139,467 00	90,565 80	.....
" 30th, 1870.....	242,720 05	122,927 68	$305 13
" 30th, 1871.....	298,462 06	143,421 25	41,253 31
	$840,851 60	$607,693 98	$41,558 44

The census of 1865 makes the number, within the State, of

Deaf and dumb.....	1,600
Blind.....	1,338
Insane.....	3,114
Idiotic.....	1,451

These figures of 1865 are doubtless much increased since, but this office is without later data on the subject.

The whole amount paid from the treasury during the fiscal year for all purposes, on account of hospitals, orphan asylums and other charitable institutions, was $1,773,370.89.

SALT DUTIES.

The report of the superintendent of the Onondaga salt springs shows the following receipts and expenditures for the fiscal year, viz.:

Receipts.

From duties on salt manufactured.....	$85,791 93
Expenditures.....	59,135 14
Net revenue.....	$26,656 79

The number of bushels inspected the last year was 8,579,193, against 8,851,247 the preceding year. The estimate of expenses for the ensuing year is $56,000, against $50,000 for the current year.

AUCTION DUTIES.

The receipts from auction duties for the past fiscal year, as compared with those of the previous year, were as follows:

Year ending September 30th, 1870.....	$121,602 18
Year ending September 30th, 1871.....	100,196 88
Decrease.....	$21,405 30

STATE PRISONS.

The following statement shows the expenditures and earnings of each of the prisons for the year ending September 30, 1871:

	Advances from the treasury.	Received from earnings.	Excess of expenditures.
Auburn	$189,159 11	$129,220 31	$59,938 80
Clinton	319,169 99	175,384 54	143,785 45
Sing Sing	364,173 53	131,547 85	232,625 68
Miscellaneous expenditures not distributed, including $22,459.30 for transportation of convicts	.....	.....	33,959 30
	$872,502 63	$436,152 70	$470,309 23

In 1867 the excess of advances from the treasury over receipts from earnings was	$366,874 79
In 1868 it was	512,547 74
In 1869 it was	595,774 45
In 1870 it was	461,304 99
In 1871 it was	470,309 23

It will thus be seen that the excess of advances over earnings, for the last fiscal year, was $9,004.24 greater than in the previous year. It cannot be doubted that our system of prison management is very defective and unnecessarily expensive. Starting with the labor of convicts free, as a capital,—a body of labor drawn from all callings and grades, and comprising skill in almost every department of industry,—it hardly admits of argument that our prisons, under wise policy and management, should be self-sustaining; not a charge of nearly half a million of dollars annually upon the treasury. The Comptroller warmly commends the subject to the attention of the Legislature, as he did in the last annual report, "as worthy of the most earnest, thorough and intelligent investigation, with reference to its revision."

THE STATE REFORMATORY AT ELMIRA.

The work of erecting this reformatory has been actively prosecuted during the last fiscal year, and the money paid from the treasury for the purpose, during that period, was $123,318.50.

NEW YORK STATE INEBRIATE ASYLUM.

By chap. 65, Laws of 1861, the trustees of this asylum, at Binghamton, were authorized to issue bonds to the amount of sixty thousand dollars, their payment being secured, by the act, "by a pledge of all the lands and buildings belonging to the said New York State Inebriate Asylum." The bonds were to be issued for a period of ten years, and to draw seven per cent interest, payable semi-annually in the city of New York, to be sold at not less than par, and the proceeds to be expended in building said asylum.

Pursuant to this authority, the trustees issued bonds to the amount of sixty thousand dollars, which became due and payable on the first day of May, 1871. The interest accruing up to November 1, 1870, has been paid, but the trustees not having the means to meet subsequently accruing interest, and the principal at maturity, the same remain unpaid. The party holding the bonds desires their payment with interest from November 1, 1870, and early provision therefor is recommended by the Comptroller.

NEW CAPITOL.

Paid from the treasury during the fiscal year ending September 30th, 1871, viz.:

Advances to commissioners	$465,000 00
Expenses of commissioners	1,092 37
Interest on advances, and on award for lands purchased	16,850 00
	$482,942 37

Schedule XXVII, annexed to this report, shows all the expenditures by the Commissioners for the new Capitol from its commencement in 1867 to September 30th, 1871.

The appropriation made by the last Legislature "toward the erection of a new Capitol," was six hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($650,000). This being based upon a tax which is not available till April 1st, 1872, the Comptroller has not felt at liberty, in view of the state of the treasury, to anticipate its payment to any considerable extent, and only fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) of the appropriation has been paid. Vouchers for expenditures by the commissioners have been examined and audited to the amount of $284.030.67, to be paid when the appropriation shall become available, the money for such expenditures having been obtained by the commissioners, it is understood, elsewhere, upon the faith of the appropriation.

TRUST FUNDS.

The following statement exhibits the capital of the several trust funds at the close of the last fiscal year, with the receipts and payments on account of the same up to its close. The schedules annexed to this report, from I to VIII inclusive, exhibit more in detail the dealings with the funds for the year and their present condition:

	Capital, September 30th, 1871.	Revenue, etc.
		Rec's during the year, including balances Oct. 1st, 1870.	Payments during the year.	Balance September 30th, 1871.
School Fund	$2,978,576 52	$372,918 17	$372,918 17	.....
Literature Fund	270,980 76	44,486 94	47,920 43	*$3,433 49

SCHOOL FUND.

The investments and present condition of this fund are exhibited in Schedule III, annexed to this report, together with the receipts and disbursements of the revenue for the fiscal year just closed. The increase and diminution of the fund during the year is shown by Schedule IV. There was an actual increase of the capital by the sum of $62,943.48.

LITERATURE FUND.

The capital of this fund has not been increased during the last fiscal year. The charges upon the revenue by the appropriations for the year were $3,433.49 in excess of receipts, which excess has been paid from the treasury. Schedule V exhibits the amount and condition of this fund in detail.

UNITED STATES DEPOSIT FUND.

The capital of this fund by the terms of the act under which it was received from the United States, and by the State Constitution, must be kept inviolate, and all deficiencies and losses made good from the revenue or from the General Fund. The revenues are devoted to educational purposes, and with the exception of $25,000, which is annually to be added to the capital of the Common School Fund, are at the disposal of the Legislature.

The deficiency of revenue on the 30th day of September, 1870, was $31,116.25. Still, owing to excess of appropriations over revenue on the 30th day of September, 1871, there was a deficiency of $31,789.98. This should be made good by a transfer of like amount from the General Fund.

Schedule VI in the appendix is referred to for a statement of this account in detail.

* Deficiency. † Transferred to capital.

ELMIRA FEMALE COLLEGE EDUCATIONAL FUND.

This fund exists under an act entitled "An act to aid the Elmira Female College," passed April 23d, 1867, as amended by chapter 586 of the Laws of 1869.

This fund consists of individual contributions of $25,000, and the contribution of like sum from the State, under chapter 79, Laws of 1870. The capital is now $50,000, and is invested in good securities.

TRUST FUND FOR THE PAYMENT OF BOUNTIES.

This fund was established by chapter 756 of the Laws of 1869. The amount of its capital has not been increased during the last fiscal year, which, on the 30th day of September, 1871, was $20,905.

COLLEGE LAND SCRIP FUND AND CORNELL ENDOWMENT FUND.

The following tables show the condition of these funds September 30th, 1871:

COLLEGE LAND SCRIP FUND.

The capital of this fund, on the 30th September, 1870, amounted to....	$454,615 87
On the 30th of September, 1871, to.....	473,402 87
Increase during the year.....	$18,787 00

(For details, see Schedule VII.)

From the revenue of the fund there has been paid to the Cornell University during the year $26,000, leaving a balance in the treasury on the 30th September, 1871, of $4,672.82.

CORNELL ENDOWMENT FUND.

The capital of this fund, on the 30th September, 1870, amounted to...	$117,169 41
On the 30th September, 1871, to.....	128,596 61
Increase during the year.....	$11,427 20

(For particulars, see Schedule VII.)

From the revenue of the fund there has been paid to the Cornell University during the year $6,000, leaving a balance in the treasury on the 30th September, 1871, of $4,331.97.

(See also report of Hon. Ezra Cornell, in Appendix XXVI.)

RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES.

The receipts into and payments from the treasury on account of all the funds, except the Canal and Free School Funds, for the fiscal year ending September 30th, 1871, were as follows:

Receipts	$12,439,048 07
Payments	14,530,701 08
Treasury overdrawn September 30th, 1871	$2,091,653 01

In the report of this department of January 1st, 1871, the receipts and payments on account of the General Fund revenue, including deficiency for the then current fiscal year, were estimated as follows:

Receipts	$17,209,194 21
Payments	19,323,940 38
Estimated deficiency to 30th September, 1871	$2,114,746 17

The actual receipts and payments, including deficiency of previous years, were:

Receipts	$11,312,687 25
Payments	20,191,493 87
Actual deficiency September 30th, 1871	$8,878,806 62

The receipts and payments on account of the General Fund revenue, for the fiscal year ending September 30th, 1872, are estimated as follows:

Estimated receipts to 30th September, 1872	$16,463,716 62
Estimated payments to 30th September, 1872	20,514,875 71
Estimated deficiency, 30th September, 1872	$4,051,159 09

This large estimated deficiency shows, in a compact form, the excess of appropriations over provision to meet them. At the close of the last fiscal year, the actual deficiency was $2,091,653.01; at the close of the present fiscal year, ending September 30th, 1872, the estimated deficiency will be $4,051,159.09, which must be provided for by taxation. There is no magic which can transmute the words of appropriation bills into gold, thus enabling them to pay themselves. Appropriations mean actual money, and this can only be realized by the practical process of taxation.

STATE OF THE TREASURY.

TAX SALE.

It was stated in the last annual report that preparations were being made for a State tax-sale. Such preparations were completed, and a sale of lands returned for non-payment of taxes to this office from 1861 to 1865, both years inclusive, took place at the Capitol commencing September 12th and ending September 23d last. The number of parcels sold was 14,559; amount of purchases by individuals, $361,994.42; amount of purchases by the State, under the statute, $68,603.59.

Of the amount of purchases by individuals, the sum of $166,584.75, and upwards, has already been paid into the treasury, and the balance is being paid in from day to day. The proceeds of this sale go into the General Fund.

TAXES.

In 1860 the State tax was	$5,440,640 49
In 1870 the State tax was	14,285,976 55
In 1860 the tax for all purposes known to this office was	18,956,024 50
In 1871 the tax for all purposes known to this office was	45,674,486 92

The gross valuation of taxable property in 1860 was	$1,419,297,520 00
The gross valuation in 1870 was	1,967,001,185 00
Increase in ten years	$547,703,665 00

The gross valuation in 1871 was $2,052,537,898; increase over 1870, $85,536,713.

The State tax for the current fiscal year is $5\frac{79}{120}$ mills, for the purposes and made up as follows:

For schools	$1\frac{1}{4}$	mills.
For general purposes	$1\frac{3}{8}$	"
For bounty debt	2	"
For new Capitol	$\frac{3}{8}$	"
For Canal Floating Debt, under chapter 271, Laws of 1859	$\frac{1}{8}$	"
For new work and extra repairs	$\frac{1}{8}$	"
For Champlain canal (enlargement)	$\frac{1}{5}$	"
Total	$5\frac{79}{120}$	mills.

By section 3, chapter 406, Laws of 1867, it was provided that there should be raised by tax in the then "present and each succeeding year, upon the real and personal estate of each county within the State, one mill and one-fourth of a mill upon each and every dollar of the equalized valuation of such estate, for the support of common schools in the State." Under this act the sum realized, by a tax of 1¼ mills on the then valuation, for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1868, was $2,080,134.65. The same rate of taxation will yield for the next fiscal year, assuming the same increase of valuation as the present year shows over the last, the sum of $2,672,593.26; while a tax of one mill will yield $2,138,074.61, an amount considerably larger than was raised by 1¼ mills on the valuation of 1868.

The customary supply for the General Fund, produced by a tax of 1¼ mills, will be necessary for the next fiscal year, while a tax of two mills will be required to make good its deficiency at the end of the current fiscal year.

A tax of ⅛ of a mill will satisfy chapter 271, Laws of 1859 (Canal Floating Debt).

Exclusive of extraordinary work on the canals and work on the new Capitol, the Comptroller is of opinion that the deficiency in the General Fund can be made good and the calls upon the treasury met, if appropriations are kept within reasonable limits, by a tax of 6⅝ mills, made up as follows:

For General Fund	1¼ mills.
For General Fund deficiency	2 "
For schools	1¼ "
For Bounty Loan	2 "
For Floating Canal Debt, chapter 271, Laws of 1859	⅛ "
Total	6⅝ mills.

CLERKS.

The Comptroller, in closing this annual report, takes pleasure in placing on record an acknowledgment of his obligations to the clerks in the department, for their great assistance in its administration, and in testifying to their intelligence, fidelity and industry in the discharge of the duties of their respective positions. These duties, always arduous, have been greatly enhanced during the last fiscal year, by a tax sale. While the increased labor incident to it was mainly performed by those specially employed in the tax department, yet its presence was felt throughout the office, and added perceptibly to the labors of all. This augmented demand upon their energies was promptly and cheerfully met, and entitles them, one and all, to official commendation, which is here cordially given.

Mr. Philip Phelps, though incapacitated by sickness and growing infirmities from performing the duties which attach to the office of deputy comptroller, in consideration of his meritorious and protracted services in the past, still retains the position, with its rank and emoluments. His inability to perform its duties makes it necessary, however, for the Comptroller to ask that temporary provision be made for the employment of a "chief clerk and auditor," who may also act as second deputy, with the powers of deputy comptroller.

Respectfully submitted.

ASHER P. NICHOLS,
Comptroller.

OFFICE OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF THE ONONDAGA SALT SPRINGS,
SYRACUSE, October 9th, 1871.

Hon. A. P. NICHOLS, Comptroller of the State of New York:

SIR.—The thirteenth section of chapter 346 of the Laws of 1859 requires that "The superintendent, at the expiration of each fiscal year, ending on the 30th day of September, or within ten days thereafter, make a report to the Comptroller, stating the quantity of salt inspected during the previous year, the amount of revenues accruing thereon and from other sources, the expenditures, and the amount which, in his judgment, will be necessary for the support of the salt springs for the ensuing year."

In obedience with this requirement of the law, I beg leave to report that the quantity of salt inspected the last fiscal year was 8,579,193 bushels.

The revenue accruing thereon was	$85,791 93
The expenditures made by the superintendent	59,135 14
Leaving surplus revenue	$26,656 79

The amount drawn from the treasury by the superintendent during the fiscal year was $60,000.

In addition to this amount there was in the hands of the superintendent at the beginning of the last fiscal year, the sum of $50.58, and there is now unexpended and in the hands of the superintendent the sum of $915.44, applicable to the payment of expenses for the fiscal year just commenced.

The books in the Comptroller's office show only the expenditures up to the month of September. The vouchers for the expenditures for that month, which amount to $4,714, will not be sent to that office until the first day of November, when the regular settlement for the two months, September and October, will be made, as provided by law.

The expenditures for the last fiscal year exceed the expenditures for the previous fiscal year $4,446.24. This increase has been caused by the construction of a new pump-house, and the furnishing of a turbine-wheel and other machinery. In addition, about $4,000 was expended in drilling and tubing two wells which proved to be failures; one at the depth of 396 feet, and the other 412 feet, at which point the red sand-stone was reached. These wells were drilled in the vicinity of the De Wolf well in accordance with the recommendation of the late superintendent.

The appropriation made for the present fiscal year will enable us to sink two or more new wells, besides meeting the legitimate expenses of the office for salaries, labor, pump-logs, etc.

I herewith annex my estimate for expenditures for the next fiscal year, commencing October 1, 1872:

ESTIMATE.

Salaries of officers	$22,000
New lines and repairs of aqueducts	5,000
New wells	6,000
Repairs for machinery	3,000
New pumps	2,000
Labor and teaming	7,000
Merchandise, oil, printing and stationery	2,500
Fuel for steam engines	2,000
Lumber and miscellaneous	1,500
New roofing reservoirs at Salina, Geddes and Syracuse	5,000
	$56,000

The items of the foregoing estimate of $56,000 are as nearly divided among the various branches of expenditures as is practicable at this distance of time.

The item of $5,000, to new roof the reservoirs, is absolutely necessary in order to protect the valuable property of the State from going to decay, as at this time the shingles on all the old structures are nearly gone.

You will observe that there is no item for rents; but being collected too late for the report of the fiscal year, will appear in my annual report.

Respectfully submitted.

J. W. STRONG,
Superintendent Onondaga Salt Springs

(XVII.)

ROLLER.

(XXVI.)

To the Comptroller of the State of New York:

In pursuance of the requirements of chapter 481 of the Laws of 1866, I, Ezra Cornell, do respectfully report:

First. That in October, 1870, I sold one-quarter section of 157 55-100 acres, at six dollars per acre. Twenty-five dollars was paid at the date of the sale, and the balance was made payable in ten years, with interest at seven per cent, payable semi-annually, at the First National Bank, Ithaca.

In December, 1870, I contracted with perfectly responsible parties for the sale of 150,000 acres of pine timber lands in the State of Wisconsin, at the price of four dollars per acre. The selections are to be so made as to take only a fair average quality of the lands entered by me for the Cornell University. Security is also provided against the removal of timber before the land is paid for. I received in payment, at the time of making the sale, $10,000. The balance is made payable in ten years, with interest at six per cent, payable semi-annually at Ithaca. The first payment of interest was paid to me when due. The above sale I was induced to make by the urgent written request of nearly all the trustees of the Cornell University, and of the Governor and Comptroller of the State.

In May, 1871, I sold in Kansas, thirteen quarter sections, making 2,080 acres, at five dollars per acre, cash, amounting to $10,400.

In June, 1871, I contracted with like responsible parties for the sale of 100,000 acres of pine timber lands in Wisconsin, at five dollars per acre, payable in ten years from the date of the contract, with six per cent interest, payable semi-annually. The lands to be so selected as to represent an average of the quality of the lands entered by me for the Cornell University, and security provided against the removal of timber before the land is paid for.

There have been some other sales made by agents, of which I have not yet received the account. A future report will be made of these sales.

Second. I have paid on account of taxes on the University lands during the past year, as follows:

In the State of Wisconsin	$29,348 61
In the State of Minnesota	701 83
In the State of Kansas	295 65
	$30,346 09

STATE OF NEW YORK,
CITY AND COUNTY OF ALBANY, } ss:

Ezra Cornell, of Ithaca, being duly sworn, says that the foregoing report is true.

EZRA CORNELL.

Subscribed and sworn to before me
this 29th of November, 1871.

HENRY GALLIEN,
Notary Public. Albany, N. Y.
